Singarasa has seen God at work in powerful ways through this ministry. For example, “There was a lady who was about 50 years old who was left by the doctors. They said that this lady would be dying in six months, because she was having a problem of the heart. She came home and the news came to me. I visited her at her house. I was preaching the gospel. I said, ‘If you believe, I will pray for you. God will save you.’ She believed and prayed. Now almost 10 years later, she is living.”

The ongoing civil war between Tamils and Sinhalese affects all people including Christians, explains Singarasa. Nearly 100,000 people have been killed in the war. Christians are praying for the war to end. “Only Jesus is the solution for Sri Lanka,” declares Singarasa.

With your prayers and gifts, you can encourage and support the missionaries of MMS, as they serve the Lord faithfully in Sri Lanka. 701MMS-01-29

CANADA: Giving and Receiving Blessings

DESERONTO, Ontario—The staff and campers of Camp Ohahaseh have been giving and receiving blessings over the past few months.

“On January 31, we put on a dinner for the homeless in the downtown core of Toronto at Bathurst and Queen,” reports Camp Director Rev. Ross Maracle. “We served hot beef stew with pie for dessert. About 80 men and women showed up for the dinner. They were very thankful and grateful for a home-cooked meal.

“In February, we mailed Valentines and chocolates to some very surprised young boys and girls. We then visited an outreach centre in Belleville and blessed them with book, tapes and candies.”

Recently, Rev. Maracle reported that co-worker Roger Brown and a crew of volunteers “are hard at work installing the trim, light fixtures and bath tubs” at the camp project manager’s cabin. In early May, the camp had a work week to do further construction and maintenance around the campground, with help from interested volunteers. Camp Ohahaseh is an indigenous ministry based in Deseronto, Ontario, which is ministering to young people from First Nations Communities and is partly assisted by Intercede. 006COM-01-29

HAITI: Much to be Grateful For

HAITI—Living Word Ministries has many things to be grateful for. With the help of Intercede’s prayer supporters, LWM has been able to help out many people whose lives were devastated last year by strong hurricanes. Over the past few months, LWM has been able to provide 600 hygiene packs and boxes of clothes for hurricane victims. “We had enough clothes to send four boxes or suitcases to five different villages!” reported LWM’s Barb Lataillade. The ministry also gave funds for home repairs to some hurricane victims.

LWM’s missionaries are also thankful for “each one of you who faithfully pray, send encouraging notes, and share your financial blessings.”
